Highland Walloon Display Village.

Highland Walloon will proudly host Bremer Valley’s newest display home village. In partnership with Master Builders Queensland, it will showcase 18 home designs from 12 leading national, state, and local builders, offering a comprehensive source of inspiration for all new home buyers.

The Future is Taking Shape in the Bremer Valley.

Set within the Greater Ipswich Region Plan, the historic townships of Walloon, Rosewood, and Thagoona have been identified as key residential growth areas – as significant as the rapidly expanding centres of Ripley and Springfield. The Ipswich LGA is one of Queensland's most important housing supply regions and is forecast to require nearly 4,000 new homes annually for the next 23 years. With the highest projected population growth in the state, the demand for well-planned, connected communities is more critical than ever.

At the heart of this opportunity is the Bremer Valley – a strategically located corridor connecting Walloon, Thagoona, and Rosewood. Rich in local history and backed by well-established infrastructure, this region is poised to deliver more than 20,000 new homes by 2046, with 5,000 planned by 2032. It spans 2,500 hectares west of Ipswich and enjoys direct access to major transport networks including the Warrego Highway, Cunningham Highway, Centenary Highway, and a dedicated passenger rail line.

Highland Walloon is proud to be part of this bold future. Designed as a benchmark new neighbourhood within the Bremer Valley, it represents a new generation of master planned living. With the foundation of trusted schools, shops, services, and community spirit already in place, the Bremer Valley is ready to grow – creating new opportunities for home ownership and a thriving lifestyle for generations to come.

Here, the future is more than just planned – it's already taking shape
